The Technical Support Membership is a 6 or 12 month support package. Members receive a special membership number that is used when you call in. If you are a NEW customer and have just purchased your first BobCAD-CAM system you have 45 days of free technical support and the support package would not begin until that time expired. Technical support services may require us to view your part file to assist you. The technical support service is specific to the points above. The BobCAD-CAM Technical Support Membership is a non-refundable highly valuable service. Technical phone service will not be available during nationally recognized holidays.
